Nationals Beaten in Pitching Duel by Browns--Railroaders Trim Locals

St. Louis Brownies Land Hurling Duel from Griffs

George Sisler Scored His Second Victory Over Walter Johnson-When Mound City Nine Wins.

St. Louis, Sept. 17.-Clyde Milan was or third with Elmer Smith on second with two down, in the ninth inning, waiting to score runs that would have won for Walter Johnson in today's duel with George Sisler, but Williams' bounded one to Johnny Lavan, the out was turned at first and the Browns nipped the Nationals, 1 to 0. It was one of the most exciting and thrilling games ever staged on a ball field—a game where brilliant pitching, fielding and throwing featured. Then Sisier, Michigan's marvel, was on the hill for the first time since last May, when he was beaten by the White Sox. 2 to 0. Without a bit of practice, Sisier pitched a wonderful game. His control was almost perfect—just two walks, one in the eighth and one in the ninth.

Several times the Nationals threatened to capture the game, especially in the third, when they filled the sacks with no one out, but Sisler jumped in and prevented a run. Then in the seventh the Nationals had a runner on third, with Nationals had a runner on third, with one out, but again Sisler featured. It was too much Sisler for the Nationals.

And Johnson's exhibition was one that would have won nine times out of ten.

The fireball wonder slipped just once in the battle, and that one slip is what beat him. For four innings he sent the Browns back to the bench as fast they went up.

Not a hit and it looked as if his mates would be the reason of the necessary run. But would bring in the necessary run. But in the fifth with a 3-2 count on Marsans. Johnson hit the batter. Waiter followed with a pass to Borton and when Henry let a low ane slip out of the glove for a passed ball. Marsans went to third and Borton to second. Austin was retired on strikes and it looked as if Hartley would be turned back via strikes, as it was two land nothing when the fast ball went up and Hartley clipped it for a single to left, Marsans scoring while Borton stopped at third. It was the first ball out of the infield off Johnson. With runners on first and third, one out, Johnson fanned Lavan, and Shotton was thrown out by Morgan.

Johnson popped a single into left and the sacks were packed for Leonard, but he missed, swinging at three curves, without a foul. The Nationals can win the season's series by taking the final. It is 11 to 10 against the Browns.

Sisier's control was perfect up to the eighth, when Henry drew four wide ones, the first pass off the Michigan marvel.

MARKETMEN LOSE TO FAST CLARENDON NINE

Va., has questioned the Clarendon nine being called champions of Northern Vir-

With three on, none down in the third, Leonard took three swings and missed.

Fast fielding by Shotton on Foster's safety in the first retired Eddie at second.

When Walt entered the fourth he was one behind Sisler in strike-outs, but he forged ahead, when he fanned Miller and Pratt.

The first ball out of the infield off Johnson was Hartley's line single to left, in the fifth, and the first fly to an outfielder was in the sixth, when Miller lined to Shanks.

STALLINGS OF BOSTON HAS BONEHEAD CLUB

Smith shot one to center with one out in the seventh and advanced to second on Marsans' fumble. A passed ball put Smith on third, only to have Shanks fan and Williams fly to Miller.

Here was a funny play: In the seventh, pitching to Borton, Johnson turned to look at the scoreboard, when the crowd yelled. The board showed the Tigers' victory over the Athletics. And just as Walt turned his head Borton bounced one to his left that rolled over second for a single.

Many humorous stories are told about George Stallings and his "boneheads." The best one was when George was managing the Yanks, when they played on the Hilltop grounds. Ray Demmitt was then with the team, and a Yank was on third, with two out. Ray turned to the big chief for advice, and asked: "Shall I try to bring him in with a long fly, Mr. Stallings?" "You better fly into the clubhouse," said the irate George, "or I'll massacre you."

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT LAUREL COURSE

Maryland State Fair Association Has Put Track in Shape for Races Starting October 2.

Laurel Park, the race course of the Maryland State Fair Association, which lies between Washington and Baltimore, will open its fall race meeting two weeks from tomorrow, Monday, October 2. This course has come to be regarded as the successor of the popular Benning track and is claimed by Washingtonians for their own. Certainly we received. their own. Certainly no race course in the country is of more convenient access than Laurel Park. So many improve-ments have been made at the track since last year that those who have been ac-customed to going to the races will hard-ly recognize the plant.

The most important improvement, however, is the resurfacing and regrading of the track itself. It has been raised in some places on the back stretch as much there. World middle-weight champion wrestern who may be the stretch as much the stre some places on the back stretch as much as three and one-half feet, and along the front stretch the outside has been raised fourteen inches. This gives the track a perfect grade, sloping gradually toward the inner rail. A new top dressing of fine loam has been placed on it and it is now said to be the finer. and it is now said to be the finest, safest and fastest track in this country. The work was done under the direction of Frank J. Keegan, who is superintendent of Churchill Downs and Juarez.

At the upper end of the track the big hill has been cut down and a row of stables overlooks the course from that point. Altogether 500 new stalls have been built, which will give accommodations, with the old barns, for 1,150 thor-oughbreds.
